Annual Report Edition

“We went to the judge, and I got a new last name and a mommy that I get to live with forever!”
– Genesis Jenkins.

When Betsy Jenkins became a single foster mom at age 27, after completing two degrees in social work, she never imagined that just a few years later she would be finalizing the adoption of two little boys, and that “Team Jenkins” would be a party of three.

For Ms. Jenkins, foster care has always been a passion. She became a licensed foster parent for a handful of reasons: she had the space, she had room in her heart, and she wanted to be a safe space in the storm for children. Ms. Jenkins has always been passionate about reunification and taken every step in her foster care journey to love and support birth families to the best of her ability.

When she got the call for 17-month-old Genesis, she was hesitant. Toddlers weren’t her forte and Genesis was so small that the staff that called thought he was much younger originally. However, Ms. Jenkins said yes anyway and quickly adapted to having this little one in her home. While adjusting to life with a toddler, Ms. Jenkins received a call that Genesis’s little brother was ready to be discharged from the NICU and they wanted to place little Micah in her home with his big brother. In less than 24 hours, she was picking him up from the hospital and bringing him home.

In the midst of the three of them learning to be family, tragedy struck. Micah got incredibly sick and was admitted to the hospital. Ms. Jenkins didn’t leave his side as he fought for his life, and it was in those darkest moments that she realized what a

A Thank You to our Neighborhood

Spring 2022

A Message from Beth Williams
President

I grew up watching Mister Roger's Neighborhood and can still sing the opening song "Won't you be my neighbor?" I loved the characters, the puppets, and the stories they wove together to teach us important lessons on life. Mr. Rogers gave us many great quotes, and this one speaks to me about what we do here at Epworth: "Knowing that we can be loved exactly as we are gives us all the best opportunity for growing into the healthiest of people."

Epworth is a place that teaches hurting children, youth and families that they are loved exactly for who they are. We all have hurts and need to have hope restored by people who love us. Over the past few years at Epworth, I have seen staff, foster parents and our neighbors demonstrate this truth over and over again.

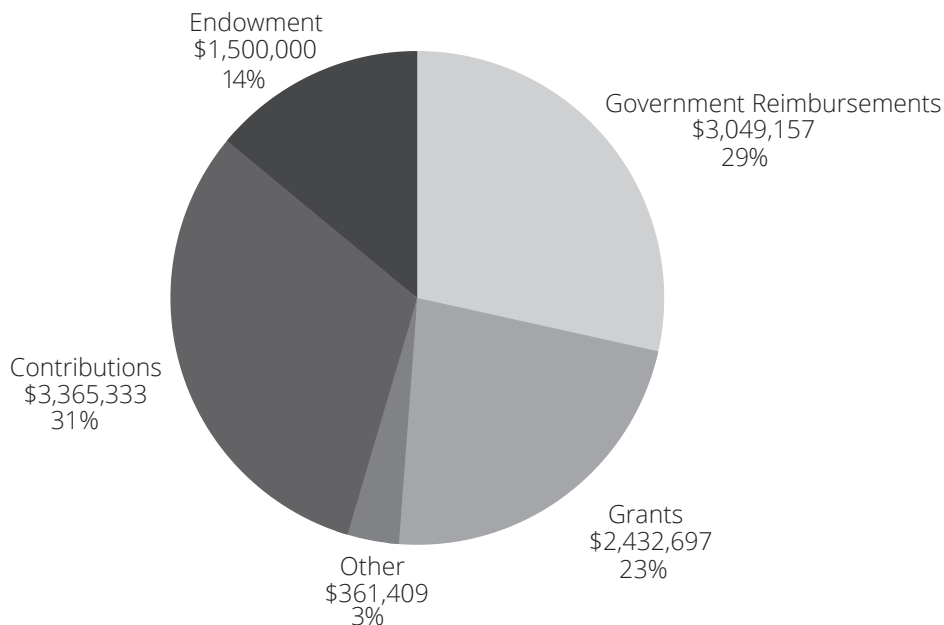

This year, we have been blessed to see many churches partner with us to support foster families in their work. They are being the church for their neighbors in beautiful ways. Smyrna United Methodist Church is a smaller congregation in the Charleston district with many "seasoned citizens." They asked if there was a way they could support a foster family in the neighborhood where most of their members live. As it turns out, we were able to connect them with one of our foster families that has a particularly challenging situation. The church is providing clothing, home equipment (like car seats), and checking in with the family to see what they might need from week to week. Babysitting? Meals? Prayers? Just as a neighbor would help a neighbor with day-to-day challenges, the church is checking on their neighbor and offering kindness and friendship. Smyrna UMC is one example among many, many churches striving to be good neighbors to the foster families in their communities and making a real difference in the lives of children by reducing the day-to-day stress and struggles that families face.

As you view the annual report that follows, I want to note a few key moments during 2021. We had many blessings last year, and with the blessings came a few disappointments. I hope you will enjoy reading our annual report and see the great things that are happening at Epworth.

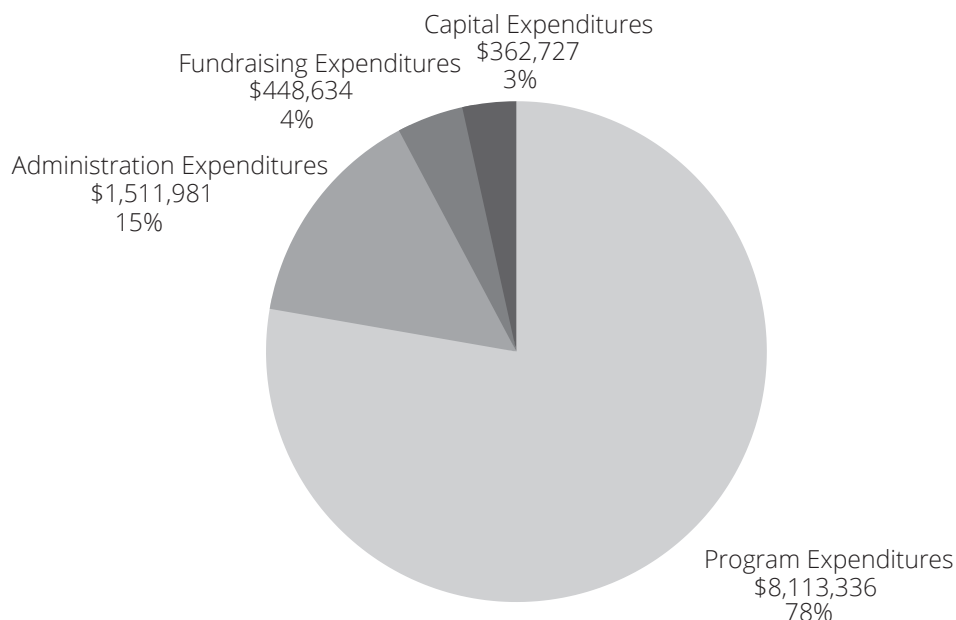

- Epworth celebrated the completion of 125 years of service fulfilling our mission as a place that exists to serve children, youth, and families through caring, safe, communities, where hurts are healed; hope is nurtured; and faith in God, self and others is developed.
- The "Every Child is a Miracle" campaign closed at the end of 2021. It is exciting to share that the campaign ended at just over $8,000,000. These funds will be used to continue transforming lives for God's most vulnerable children and families.
- We served over 1,000 children and families during 2021. Several programs, including foster care, early intervention, counseling services, independent living, and the HOMEBUILDERS® program set new records for the number of children and families served during a twelve-month period.
- Epworth continued the expansion of the Institute for Child and Family Wellbeing and opened new foster care hubs in the Rock Hill and Pee Dee areas. Our United Methodist partners created more office space in multiple churches around the state for staff to work.

Laurie Brandes – Thank You

A Special Thank You to Laurie Brandes

In February, we celebrated Laurie Brandes, Director of Independent Living, as she moves forward to her next steps. Laurie served at Epworth for 31 years, shepherding the adults in Higher Education and Independent Living. We are so thankful for her selflessness, courage, grit, and grace for the past 31 years. Laurie has served Epworth well and walked alongside hundreds of young adults over the years through priceless experiences, like seeing the beach for the first time or celebrating their college graduation. She is loved and cherished by many as family.

We will certainly miss Laurie at Epworth but we are so excited to see all that is to come. Thank you, Laurie Brandes!

- 100% of seniors graduated or earned their graduation equivalency diploma (GED) at the end of the 2020-2021 school year. This is the 9th consecutive year with 100% graduation rate.

Note: Data for Assessment testing is based on residents who are at Epworth at least 90 days. We served a total of 105 residents in the tutoring program last year but only 38 residents are included in the assessment data.

village of people she had around her. Friends and family surrounded them in love, care, and met their practical needs each day without thinking twice. Slowly but surely, Micah got better, and the three of them left the hospital with an unbreakable bond.

As the case progressed, it became clear that reunification was not a possibility and the boys' parental rights were eventually terminated. The case moved toward adoption and Ms. Jenkins realized that these boys would be a part of her family forever. On adoption day they celebrated big, with Team Jenkins t-shirts, balloons, and signs. Yet in the midst of the celebration, they also held in their hearts a mourning for the boys' family of origin. It is not lost on Ms. Jenkins that the gain of her two sons in her home meant the loss of them in someone else's. Though the boys are young they will always know about "first mom" and "first family". Each year they celebrate family day, the day that the boys came to live with their new mom and they remember and are reminded of their first family. They read books about foster care and adoption and honor who they are and the family they came from.

Today, the boys are thriving. Genesis is fun and sassy and loves all things Disney. He went from being a little one who couldn't walk to constantly being reminded that kangaroo feet are for outside, since he loves to hop everywhere he goes. He is smart and thriving in school, making Ms. Jenkins proud every day. Sweet Micah went from being a 2-pound preemie to a thriving, wild, 24-pound toddler. He is fearless, loving, and always willing to dance to "Baby Shark." They are loving life as a family of three and looking forward to the many years of memories to come.

For Ms. Jenkins, this adoption reminds her daily how lucky she is to have the boys, and how life works out in the wildest ways. She reminds us all that there is never a perfect time to say yes to something new and scary, that having a village of people to support you can make all the difference, and that the best life is often one you could have never imagined.

Epworth's Annual Mother's Day Offering

- Epworth established prevention programs across the state of South Carolina.

The major challenges last year were:

- The traditional residential population continued to see a decline as a result of the federal lawsuit that was filed against the state of South Carolina. The settlement requires that 86% of children and youth be placed in home-like settings and not group homes. In addition to serving fewer young people, the average length of stay has shortened dramatically over the past year. Youth are transitioning in and out of our home more rapidly than in years past. Although staff are always making impacts into the lives of the young people placed with us, shorter times in residence make it more difficult having the deeper connections to the youth.
- The pandemic continued to make it difficult to fellowship together and enjoy our volunteers and church partners on this campus. We were able to celebrate a few group activities during the fall, but it was short lived as the pandemic surged again. The pandemic has affected our youth educationally, socially and in their overall wellbeing. This issue is not specific to Epworth, but we have felt the effects of it here.

Although 2021 was a year of ups and downs with the pandemic and the challenges it brought, we are thankful for our neighbors and community. Thank you for helping us demonstrate love for children and families exactly how they are so “they may grow into the healthiest of people.”
